Annual Report 2020

CHILD RIGHTS AND YOU
www.cryamerica.org

From The President's Desk

Dear CRY America Supporter,

2020 was one of the most devastating years that the world has seen. Lockdowns, school closures, food shortages, loss of parental wages and COVID-19 itself - gave rise to gaps in learning, hunger, malnutrition, ill-health, spikes in child labor, child marriage, trafficking and abuse across India and the USA.

CRY America had to revise it's annual plans and pivot to addressing the ground realities. We supported the work of Projects on community awareness, training on COVID-19 safety, distribution of PPE kits and ensuring testing and vaccinations along with addressing child labor, child marriage and trafficking issues.

Health and malnutrition issues were addressed through food distribution and health checks-ups. We focused on education through online classes and distribution of study material. We worked with children's groups who connected through whatsapp groups to discuss COVID-19 safety and other issues. Our project teams were given special Govt IDs to operate as essential frontline workers going house to house keeping children safe at the risk of their own lives and families.

Thank you for supporting CRY America at a critical time. We were able to meet all our grant commitments for 2020. May we continue to stand together and be the village that these children need to grow up healthy and happy.

With faith and goodwill,

Shefali Sunderlal
President, CRY America

Covid 19 Devastates Underprivileged Communities & Children Across India

The COVID-19 pandemic is a crisis like no other the world has faced in recent decades in terms of the devastation created on the economic, social and healthcare fronts. The underprivileged communities have been affected the most and children are the unseen victims of this crisis.

247 million* children in India have been impacted due to the closure of schools and lack of access to online education leading to children dropping out of school altogether. In addition, lack of parent incomes, are resulting in large spikes in child labor and child marriage.

The harmful effects of this pandemic have been damaging for children in the poorest neighborhoods in the USA too. School closures and lack of parental income led to severe hunger issues. Lack of digital access also led to many children being unable to continue or cope with their education. This placed children at a heightened risk for violence, neglect and exploitation.

The pandemic is leaving a trail of destruction for many children, both in India and the USA.

Project Partner & Children's Voices

“ Everything was shut down because of the lockdown. Vaccination was the most important thing to do but there was a lot of hesitancy in the community. We came up with a plan and managed to convince people over whatsapp to get vaccinated. A vaccination drive was organized along with CRY while adhering to government regulations of safety and it was a huge success.” Keshav, Project Partner, Srishti

“ The lockdown made it very difficult for young girls and women to access sanitary napkins. This was a huge problem. We approached CRY and they supported us by providing the necessary sanitary napkins through the Anganwadi Centers.” Nilima, Beneficiary Project Swati

“The lockdown has made it difficult for us children. Schools are shut and we are struggling to complete our syllabus through online classes. Our teachers explain to us and we are all trying our best. However, there are many students who are dropping out of school as they do not have smart phones and cannot attend the online classes nor access online studies.” Akash, Beneficiary Project PPN

“When schools shut, I was forced to work and support my family. My parents forced me to continue working even after schools reopened. Project SVK helped me get enrolled in a hostel where I could focus on my studies and give it my best without worrying about work”. - Sumaya, Beneficery Project SVK

“The pandemic and the lockdown has instilled fear in parents forcing them to get their young daughters married at age 13 and 14. There is a rise in child marriages and if the lockdown continues, we cannot imagine how bad the long term effects will be. Our primary response is educating and counselling girls and their parents. Once schools are open, we will work towards making sure girls go back to school and also rehabilitating child brides.” - Shobha Gasti, Project Partner Margadarshi

“The CRY partnership has given PORD an opportunity to strengthen our perspective on children’s rights and has enabled us to positively impact the lives of many children. PORD sees this CRY partnership as an invaluable one that has added to our efforts towards protecting child rights.” - Lalithamma, Project Partner, PORD

CRY America's COVID-19 Fundraising Efforts

The unprecedented times of COVID-19 demand extraordinary measures to be taken, to provide necessary care to the underprivileged children that we support. All 30 of CRY America's supported projects required immediate relief materials. CRY did a rapid survey across supported projects and developed a disaster relief plan which needed immediate funding. All projects on the ground had to pivot to dealing with the COVID-19 crisis and protecting their communities. CRY America volunteers and staff launched COVID-19 online fundraising campaigns and started reaching out to our donors.

Our COVID-19 Fundraiser on Facebook was set up and promoted by our volunteers in July, 2021. It ran for 2 months and raised over $10,000 from 125 donors.

Our second online fundraising effort was conducted on america.cry.org from May till July, 2020 which was supported by 45 donors and raised 10,559.

We thank all our donors and volunteers for coming together to help children and communities in need of relief efforts.

COVID-19 Response

2,400 households were provided dry rations, 7,500 masks were distributed to frontline workers, and 600 hygiene kits were given to adolescent girls. In the worst phase of the lockdown, some SSRF staff members even took the initiative to produce sanitary pads for the girls themselves - a story featured on NDTV.

Helping Girls Beat Child Marriage To Follow Their Dreams

Uttar Pradesh witness one of the highest number of child marriages in India. Khadija a 16-year-old girl from Varanasi faced similar issues.

Khadija's family decided to get her married due to financial shock of the lockdown and relieve some of the family burden. Savitri another minor had the same story whose wedding preparation was underway and she was getting married to a 35-year old man who is a suspected child trafficker.

Luckily, both girls were part of CRY America project SSRF's adolescent girls' collectives. Through their alert groups, the staff learned about these weddings and worked with the Child Welfare Committee and police to stop them.

The two girls now have a second of life! Yet, it's hard to imagine what would have happened if help from CRY America hadn't arrived in time. Stories like theirs are only possible because of the the kindness of our donors.

Vivek Oberoi's Passion For Children's Rights!

Our celebrity guest for the Galas this year was the famous Indian film actor, Vivekanand Oberoi. Vivek made his film debut with Ram Gopal Varma's company (2002), which won him two Filmfare Awards. In all, he has donated about ₹3 million and helped raise ₹25 million. He is very passionate about children and their rights and has been instrumental in helping CRY raise funds for underprivileged children.

“In India today, 80 million children are out of school, 33 million children are employed in child labor and a shocking 12 million children are married.

CRY and CRY America do remarkable work, supporting children through some of the most difficult issues, such as facilitating immunizations, safe deliveries and regular health check-ups for children, ensuring quality education, protecting them from malnutrition, child labor, child marriage and child trafficking so that every child has a happy and healthy childhood.

Each one of us are the building blocks for a good quality life for our kids.

I am proud to say that I am a CRY supporter, and you should be proud too. This year the challenges are even greater due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Your support is needed this year more than ever.”

Transforming Lives Of Children Living In Red Lights Areas

Life was never easy for Bikram. His father being an alcoholic was not able to contribute to the family's income. His mother and grandmother who were commercial sex workers, looked after the family with earnings from the trade. Bikram grew up with his siblings amidst constant fights and chaos. Growing up in a red light area is never easy for any child. The little boy began looking for ways to make money which led him to bad company and got him in trouble.

But Bikram's story took a drastic turn when CRY America project Sanlaap counselled him, involved him in extracurricular activities, and enrolled him in school. At first, he had trouble coping and kept dropping out of school. However, the team never lost faith in him.

Bikram is now studying in school. He is a youth group member, counselling other boys his age. He has taken a keen interest in painting and sports and dreams of becoming a great football player.

When he started off, Bikram had no idea how his life would change and what a great man he was growing up into. Amazing things do happen when you let your hopes and not your hurts, shape your future!

Helping Children Be Independent & Realise Their Full Potential

There are many areas in Chittoor, Andhra Pradesh that are deeply rural. The hamlets do not have access to school because of which children have to travel 1 to 5 km to reach school. The lack of availability of school results in children dropping out and getting involved in child labor or other ill practices. Vishnu was one of the children from the community who was facing similar issues. When Vishnu entered his local children's collective for the first time he did not open up in front of other people.

Through extensive life skills sessions and counselling by PORD, Vishnu slowly became more outspoken. He also learned more about children's rights and started developing into a true leader!

He is now in 12th grade, the president of his children's collective, and a role model for children around him. He has not only transformed his own life but also of the children around him. Thanks to his hard work with the PORD team, 15 children at risk of child labor were identified and mainstreamed into education! He is also a strong advocate for gender equality and coordinates directly with institutions and the police to help stop cases of child marriage.

Vishnu not only has great hopes and dreams for his own life but wants to create a society where boys and girls are truly equal!

Paving A Way For Children To Be Free From Labor

Raja was on his way to complete his school education. Just then, his family was hit by a financial crisis which forced him to drop out of school and leave home to look for a job in Surat. With a heavy heart he began work at a diamond cutting factory, and soon fell very ill because of the poor working conditions there. Even though Raja suffered each day, he still had to carry on to be able to support his family.

But not for long, as his life was about to change for good. It was around this time that CRY America project DEEP started an intensive anti-child labor campaign in Raja's village. The interesting rallies and inspiring cultural programs did an outstanding job at helping Raja's parents realise how permanently damaging child labor would be for their son's health and future. After hearing about Raja's tragic story, the team did all they could to convince his parents to call him back home.

Today, Raja's health is much better. He is in college, very happy to be back on the path he had chosen for himself. Raja did not let the memories of his past limit the potential of his future. He wants to become a government servant and serve the nation.
